MISSION IN ACTION: Comfort in a Time of Crisis

It started with her hands. Jocelyn Carr, a healthy, happy 9-year-old girl was enjoying a lazy summer day until suddenly she started losing the feeling in her hands. Soon, the paralysis spread upward in her arms.

Sip to Support RMHC Spokane
September 2015

Terrified, Cody and KoLiss, Jocelyn's parents, took her to the Clark Fork Valley Hospital in their hometown of Plains, Mont. From there, she was quickly transferred to Kalispell, Mont. Doctors told the Carr family that Jocelyn had contracted Guillian-Barre syndrome, a rare disorder in which the immune system attacks the nerve system, causing paralysis. By the time the family reached the hospital in Kalispell, the paralysis had spread throughout Jocelyn's body and paralyzed her from the neck down. Due to doctors' grave concerns about the disease's attack on Jocelyn's respiratory system, Jocelyn was put on a Life Flight to Sacred Heart

Children's Hospital the next morning. KoLiss went with her. She would not return home for another four months.

Jocelyn was admitted to the Intensive Care Unit at Sacred Heart Children's Hospital on July 3rd, 2014. Doctors immediately intubated and put her on a ventilator. "I was really scared when I couldn't breathe. The tube was really uncomfortable and just really, really scary," remembers Jocelyn. During that time, Cody and KoLiss slept on the waiting room couch, trying to piece together a plan to keep their family together. A month after they arrived in Spokane, a room opened up at Spokane's Ronald McDonald House.

At the Ronald McDonald House, the Carr family started to regroup. Jocelyn's younger sisters had space to run and play outside, and KoLiss was able to cook the family meals at night. Although she and Cody took turns spending the night with Jocelyn so that she would never be alone, they had a place to come back to take a shower, have a nap, and care for themselves. Unfortunately, Jocelyn had to stay in the Intensive Care Unit until August 13th. When she was released to St. Luke's for rehab, she was permitted to leave for 2-3 hours periods of time. She always requested to go to the Ronald McDonald House – even if it was just to have dinner or take a nap.

Slowly, Jocelyn's treatments began to work, and she began to regain movement in her upper body. Once she was able to eat normally, her first request was for a home-cooked meal. KoLiss ran over to the Ronald McDonald House and made her "mom's breakfast". It was a small piece of home for Jocelyn in an otherwise strange and scary world.

When September came, Cody and the girls returned home to Plains for the beginning of school, and KoLiss stayed in Spokane with Jocelyn while she began intensive rehab at St. Luke's. During this time, KoLiss appreciated the community that she found with other families. "It was really neat to talk to the other families and hear what they had to say. We are here for each other. We are each other's support system."

Jocelyn's recovery has been tough, physically and emotionally. She continues to work on her fine motor skills, especially in her hands. However, she has continued to approach each day with a sense of optimism and a fighting spirit. When asked about hopes for the future, she says "I just want to get back to normal. I want to be able to help with my sister's hair." Despite her circumstances, she has never lost perspective. "Being at the Ronald McDonald House, I realize that I'm pretty lucky. I'm getting better every day. A lot of the kids here have cancer and will be here for a while."

During Jocelyn's recovery, the Ronald McDonald House has provided a number of services for the Carr family. But most importantly, it has kept them together. As KoLiss says, "It's a home for everyone. It's amazing how the families here become one big family."

Reflections

In many ways 2014 was a great year for Ronald McDonald House Charities of Spokane – guest families received outstanding and compassionate care, donations covered all operating expenses, more family stories were shared through traditional and social media than ever before, more advanced medical services and technologies were used to improve the health conditions for children, and new partnerships were established.

However, in the midst of our gratitude for these blessings, in 2014, as is the case every year, RMHC families faced difficult and heart wrenching circumstances. Many families were uprooted from their homes in less than twenty-four hours, transferred to Spokane and prescribed life saving treatments for their seriously ill children. Over 400 of those families settled in to their “Home Away From Home” at the Ronald McDonald House. Families who stayed at the Ronald McDonald House were overwhelmed with gratitude. Please know that you helped create that experience for these families by supporting RMHC Spokane.

Unfortunately more families than ever before were not able to stay at the “House That Love Built”, as our waiting list topped thirty families. Our heart goes out to these families, and we are hopeful that someday, with your help, more families will be able to stay at the Ronald McDonald House.

In the meantime, thank you for your support. Please consider an early year donation to support families going through some of the most difficult times they will ever face, or sign up to make a monthly donation through our online monthly giving program.

On behalf of these families, with gratitude, thank you.
Mike Forness, Executive Director

Ronald McDonald House Charities of Spokane

WHO WE ARE:

Ronald McDonald House Charities of Spokane (RMHC Spokane) provides temporary lodging, comfort and support for families with children accessing medical services in Spokane, and supports related efforts to improve children’s health in our region.

WHAT WE DO:

Our Mission is carried out through 3 Core Programs:

RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE

Ronald McDonald House Spokane provides lodging for families of ill or injured children who must travel to Spokane for medical care. Our House provides a “home-away-from-home” for these families so that they are able to focus on taking care of their child. The House provides all the amenities of a home, as well as a community of support for families.

RONALD MCDONALD FAMILY ROOMS

The Ronald McDonald Family Rooms located in Sacred Heart Children’s Hospital provide a place of rest and respite to families at the hospital while their child receives treatment for an illness or injury. Families are able to shower, do laundry, take a nap, or share a meal just steps away from their child’s bedside.

RONALD MCDONALD CARE MOBILE

The Ronald McDonald Care Mobile Unit helps bridge access to health care for underserved children. A team of pediatric staff and volunteers provides high-quality, cost-effective medical, dental and health services to children in the Yakima Valley.

TOP 5 SIGNS YOU’RE MAKING 2015 A MEANINGFUL YEAR

1. You’ve Signed Up to Make a Monthly Donation

Each month, approximately 50 families with children in medical crisis find themselves staying at Spokane’s Ronald McDonald House. You can help provide these families with all of the amenities that they need during their stay by making a monthly donation. It’s easy to donate online at rmhcsokane.org/individual-donations. Whether you’re able to donate $5, $10 or more each month, your generosity is felt by our families.

2. You’ve Considered Our Planned Giving Program

If one of your New Year’s resolutions is to meet with a lawyer or financial planner to talk about estate planning, we hope that you will consider how you can leave a legacy of love by making a gift to RMHC Spokane. These gifts have a significant impact on our organization, and may have current or long-term tax and income benefits. Learn more at rmhcsokane.org/planned-giving.

3. You’re Signed up to Volunteer Through Our Meal Program

When times are tough, the last thing families want to worry about is what’s for dinner. (or lunch or breakfast!) One of the most meaningful ways to volunteer is to sign up to come in and make a meal for families staying at the Ronald McDonald House. You don’t have to be a great chef to make a difference! Learn more at rmhcsokane.org/volunteer

4. You’ve Saved the Date for an Upcoming Fundraising Event

Want to have a great time and support a great cause? Make sure to save the date for one of our upcoming fundraisers! See the back panel for all of the dates, and visit rmhcsokane.org/events for details and registration.

5. You Know You’re Making a Difference

Whether you make a monthly donation, volunteer, collect pop-tops, or attend an event, you are part of a community that is providing hope and healing for over 600 families every year. Thank you for helping us help families heal together. Your generosity is deeply appreciated by the families who rely upon us during their time of crisis.
